

Clocks

Rome

brown clocks hanging from an autumn sky will they grant me one more hour?
white wings they shimmer and shine she has brought me gifts

a string of pearls
roses of red
emeralds from the black waters of the southern sea
knives of silver
knives of gold

the grey skies of today the iron mist of tomorrow worlds unravel
passion and guilt