

City In Motion

Ron Pope

All of the colors of the quickly setting sun
Fill up your sky
A city in motion, you set a city in motion
You love the darkest parts, of every quick remark
If it's cold and hard
It sets you in motion, it sets a city in motion

Cause when the lights are blinding
I don't mind it, if you require my shade
But when the nights are darkest
All I want is for you to shine my way

Beneath the apple tree, I heard you call to me
When I knew no shame
You set it in motion, you set a city in motion
And with my trembling hands
I reach for second chances I can't find
A city in motion, I watch this city in motion

Cause when the lights are blinding
I don't mind it, if you require my shade
But when the nights are darkest
All I want is for you to shine my way
And if the only thing that keeps you here
Is some echo in the dark
Let's set the city in motion
Before we fall apart

I want a little more love (and no more pain)
I want a little more love (so let me stay)

Cause when the lights are blinding
I don't mind it, if you require my shade
But when the nights are darkest
All I want is for you to shine my way
And if the only thing that keeps you here
Is some echo in the dark
Let's set the city in motion
Before we fall apart

I want a little more love (and no more pain)
I want a little more love (so let me stay)
