

Explain

Ron Pope

Do you remember how you found me?
I wasn't standing up straight
Soaked to the bone, by an afternoon storm
I was wretched
But you... let me in

And if it's harder for you than it is for me
Then we should probably agree that we won't agree
And if the answers I hoped for are make believe,
Then you should probably explain what you mean

We were sleeping through the morning
You only like the afternoons
Too scared to fight, too cold to go outside, we were restless
And I don't care what you wear,
Please take down your hair and let's forget this

(2x)

And if it's harder for you than it is for me
Then we should probably agree that we won't agree
And if the answers I hoped for are make believe,
Then you should probably explain what you mean
