

Our Song

Ron Pope

On our first date I asked you to dance
You turned bright red and started to laugh
I stayed straight faced until you stopped

On that riverbank there was no music to hear
I pulled you in close and whispered in your ear
"I think I know a tune you'll like"

So I hummed something soft and sweet
The stars came out as we moved our feet

So won't you take my hand
Take my heart
Promise to never stop dancing once we start
Oh
Oh
'Cause this is our song

The seasons changed as we fell in love
Learned your brothers' names and the warmth of your arms
Your mother seems to like my jokes

Got up my nerve and asked your old man
Said, "Oh
This is love
May I have her hand"
He smiled and said, "Son that'll be just fine"

So I took the ring that Grandma'd put aside
Dropped to one knee and looked in your eyes

Said, "Won't you take my hand
Take my heart
Promise to never stop dancing once we start
Oh
Oh
'Cause this is our song"

I can't promise no fairytale but you'll be the queen in any castle I build
Oh
Oh
And this is our song

I will bring you the mountains
Write your name 'cross the sky
Anything that you need I will try to find

So won't you take my hand
Take my heart
Promise to never stop dancing once we start
Oh
Oh
Oh
Oh

Won't you take my hand
Take my heart

Promise to never stop dancing once we start

Oh

Oh

'Cause this is our song

If the stars burn out and no longer shine

I'll still search for heaven right in your eyes

Oh

Oh

Oh

Oh

And this is our song
