

Chased By Love

Ron Sexsmith

Well the sun came shining
Through my cell
A book lies open upon my shelf
But I'm afraid I've lost the thread
Can't seem to raise myself from bed today

This whirlwind prisoner
I've locked away
Is blowing crazy around his cage
If I surrender to his cries
Would you pretend you don't recognize me?

From way back when
I'm the same boy that you knew then
I just want to be chased by love
Embraced by love
Just like you
Just like you

I feel these chains of freedom
Chains of trust
Chains of mystery surrounding us
But I know you and you know me
You're not mistaken
I'm the one you think you see

From way back when
I'm the same boy that you knew then
I just want to be chased by love
Embraced by love
Just like you
Just like you
