

Heavenly

Ron Sexsmith

Heavenly sunrise
Welcoming our day
It's a heavenly love
That you and I survey

The morning wears her
Golden autumn dress
It's a heavenly love
That you and I possess

Though our pockets are empty
We won't let it get us down
There is so much to be thankful for
Pessimism's so tempting
It's spreading all over town
Where there is love, there's an open door

All the birds are leaving
I hear it in their song
It's a heavenly love
That you and I look upon
Though our pockets are empty
We won't let it get us down
There is so much to be thankful for
Pessimism's so tempting
It's spreading all over town
Where there is love, there's an open door

Heavenly sunset
Worshiping the earth
It's a heavenly love
And we know what it's worth

It's a heavenly love
And we know what it's worth
