

Nowadays

Ron Sexsmith

Nowadays I hear your heart
Beating when I can't understand
And everywhere I go
There's love at hand

Nowadays I feel your arms
Wrap around my dreams in the night
And when I'm far away
I'm embraced in light

Used to be I felt so all alone
Used to be I dealt with panic on my own

But nowadays I see your face
Peering through the eye of a storm
It leads me to a place
That's safe and warm

Used to be I felt so all alone
Used to be I dealt with devils on my own

But nowadays I hear your song
Ringing through my heart and soul
And when I've had enough
Your love takes hold

I just throw my hands up
And your love takes hold
