

Nowhere Is

Ron Sexsmith

A shadow falls
Across my mind
And a silence
Comes over me
When I look behind
And I think of how
Blue I might be
Were it not for
This love I've found
I'd be lost at sea

I know where
I've been there
And now I know
Where nowhere is

I lived alone
I made my bed
Had to shove
Everything I owned
Into a room of regrets
I hit the town
Painted it blue
Were it not for
This joy I've found
Life would not be new

I know where
I've been there
And now I know
Where nowhere is

So I count my blessings
And my lucky stars
For this love
Is the best thing
I ever gave my heart

I know where
I've been there
And now I know
Where nowhere is
