

Reason For Our Love

Ron Sexsmith

Caught in the middle
Of a daydream of you
We're lost in this riddle
Where they keep the answers up above

There's a reason for our love
There's a reason for our love

Thought life held nothing
Now I'm holding your hand
My heart, always wondering
When all at once, it understands

There's a reason for our love
There's a reason for our love

Everybody seems so surprised
Though it has been right before our eyes
All the time

And while we were talking
Time has flown, so it seems
That you were sleepwalking
Through that very same dream and back to us

There's a reason for our love
There's a reason for our love
Though the answer lies above
There's a reason for our love
