

Summer

Rookie of the Year

here we are
and here we are unbroken

she spends her days somewhere out there in Boston to think about her life while she's alone and then she moved out west, out to Austin to see why cowboys always live alone here we are unbroken and here we are much the same

here we are...

oh you're never gonna get it so get it right now and all we are is all we are we're the same

I wouldn't lie...

she spent some time out there in California (and I'd sing)
this could be something incredible or not worth my time then she listened to me in disguise I never knew she paid attention with Florida on her mind all I know I need you back so I can take your breath away back before the day that all this went away those times meant everything I'd give up everything for this now

the same

you got a brand new song and a summer tan with so much to do I've got fifteen dollars and I'm riding on this train to you
