

You're What I'm Looking For

Rooney

I met you at a time in my life when I was lost, when I was down
And every hope had hit the ground
I couldn't see how good you were, I was blind
I didn't know what I was looking for

It's funny sometimes how it all comes around
Like a sound and like a style, it's lost and it's found
Now it's the time to call it a day
It's getting old, it's getting late
There's only so much I can say

When I look at you, my troubles all go away
I'm someone new, it feels just like a new day
When you hold me tight, I get lost in your arms
I know tonight I've finally found what I'm looking for
You know you're what I'm looking for

I thought I knew what was best for me,
But I need more than a fantasy and more than a dream
I keep on wondering how many times you let a good thing slip away,
And loneliness is all we find
You're better than me, so tell me what do you see?
I'm like a dog without a leash, I'm a lock without a key
We've taken our time and grown back together
I can love you and miss you in all the right ways

It's funny sometimes how it all comes around
Like a sound and like a style, it's lost and it's found
Now it's the time to call it a day
It's getting old, it's getting late
There's only so much I can say

You know you're what I'm looking for
What I'm looking for
I'm looking for you
Yeah, you
