

Just the Smile

Rory Gallagher

Just the smile that is spreading all over her face
Could warm up the room and set fire to the place
Yes, it could, you know it could

Now, the fog is clinging all over the town
Put one foot in front then you just might fall down
On the ground, she's in town

Like the rain that is falling all over the land
She cools down my mind when she touches my hand
Feels so good, yeah, so good

Well, just the smile that is spreading all over her face
Could warm up the room and set fire to the place
Yes, she could, you know it could