

Diamonds Are Forever

Roses Are Red

your words they hurt my ears they come out so unclear sometimes i'd rather die because i know you'll never try hold it right there not so fast wondering if my time has passed just try and hold on dont let it go these words are spinning around your face diamonds are forever
i've got a heart made out of stone our time is up i'm moving on carefully no time for thoughts of someone else's dreams diamonds they last forever but i've got this heart made out of stone take another look at all the things you want to be.
