

Handshakes And Heartbreaks

Roses Are Red

and all your promises broke fast those are words you can't take

what good is this ending when we're just fighting all the time you're speaking slowly but your words speed through my heart give it a rest its for the best good bye will bring you happiness inside my heart and i'll watch it fade into the night sky driving faster to get away wont stop until the sunrise

give it a rest its for the best good bye

fill up the tank im on my own again

i'll find a way to make it something i can live with in the end this is the hardest part can we go back to the start this is the worst time i let this happen again
