In Time

Rosie Thomas

I get so tired of all the talking that I do How my words just seem wasted on you Maybe some day when it's all said and done You'll finally find these words of mine were true In time Time Yeah, I get so tired of all the pretending that I do When inside all I do is long for you I'm just waiting for the day When I'm boarding the next train And my name is called, and the voice belongs to you In time Time Maybe it's over What if it's over? I guess I'll get over you in In a little while I know I will get over you Takes a little time, but in time I'll get over you In a little while I know I will get over you Just takes time, but in time I'll get over you [repeat]
