

Never Loose Again

Rough Silk

Most of the time
I tried to win in a world that's much too cold to see but still I believe there's a river to cross and beyond the waters someone waits for me and all the years I can't deny and all the tears you'll never cry for me but I will never loose again saw all the things I had to see and I will never loose again all the pain - all the pride all the rain and all the light

I tried to live like an eagle on his wings up in the skies and I made some mistakes but still no regrets and all the reasons are like mountains in my eyes and so I take my clothes again hit the road - it's over when I'm gone on and on and I will never loose again....
