

On The Wrong Side Of The Moon

Rough Silk

you gotta call me when it's dark there
on the wrong side of the moon and when the toys of love will turn into evil hounds of doom when silence is holy in the cages of light you will remember the shadows of the fight I will be there - after the war
I will be there - forevermore and I will be there - with the wind and the rain I will be there - somehow - someway - somewhere burning in season of pain and despair over the mountains where no one seems to care a new ray of hope will come and light up the night as long as you need me I will be by your side I will be there ♦ after the war
someday we'll try and heaven can wait reach for the sky - and get away - get away so I will be there - after the war
