Roxette

Living here without you is not an easy way of life I spend my time without you I try to make it all worthwhile Standing in a rainfall coming down from the sky

Cry

Why should I cry over you? Why should I cry cry cry over you?

I keep on thinking about you I've got no private pride to hide I've built my world around you like a call without reply My love has lost direction she's got the sun in her eyes

Why should I cry...

Hearing your footsteps, loud on my stairs (a-walking...)
- living without you
Feeling the sweet sweet smell of love in the air (I can feel it
...)
- living without you
Kissing the face that I see everywhere but I'm living without you, living without

Cry, cry, cry, over you...
