You Can't Put Your Arms Around What's Already Gone

Roxette

I saw red, stayed at home Placed a big pillow over the phone In this town where I'm from I've learned two is so much better than one

But you left me alone You can't put your arms around what's already gone Watch you sink like a stone You can't put your arms around what's already gone

Well, you hurt to the core You used to kiss like no one had done before And your taste turned me on Now you drive me real crazy just by being born

Cos you left (left left left) me alone (left me alone) And you can't put your arms around what's already gone Watch you sink like a stone You can't put your arms around what's already gone

Took the tram 'round the bay Where everyone tells you to have a nice day And my pride almost broke When the tears don't fit you, you look like a joke
