I know not where on earth to find you I know not how or when to start I only know, I'm here without you I've got pins and needles in my heart

The days and night are growing longer Since first you said that we must part I only know, I can't forget you With these pins and needles in my heart

I always see your face before me Your smile is heaven's work of art But now you're smiling at another And there's pins and needles in my heart

Sometime, somewhere, we'll meet again, dear Then love will make the teardrops start Someday you'll know, how long I've waited With these pins and needles in my heart
