

Too Many Footprints

Roy Drusky

I've tried to tell myself it's not important
You fell in love so many times before
But I won't be back to be another number

There are too many footprints on your floor
Too many footprints on your floor
And some of them were bigger shoes than mine

How many others have you
Kissed goodnight at your front door?
There are too many footprints on your floor

When I find love, I wanna find a true love
I'm gonna stand where no one's stood before
So, goodbye and if you must know why I'm leaving
There are too many footprints on your floor

There are too many footprints on your floor
Too many footprints on your floor
And some of them were bigger shoes than mine
