

For Longer Than It Takes

Roy Harper

I walk in your footsteps love when you're not even there you fly me in my fleeting steps towards the dreams we share I'll be with you till the time itself is overstretched and breaks for I will be in love with you
I love myself as I love you as time will surely tell I love you better for the way you love yourself as well I'll be with you till time itself is overstretched and breaks
you don't know the times I've cried the purest simple joy I met a girl who took me in I could never destroy she feels my pleasures and my pains she gives more than she's got I'll never be worthy of that no matter what through all my barbed wire through my fury's blackest hour she bursts the bubbling rages that built the ivory tower through all my barriers my anger and despair I've got a friend to turn to and she's always there
