

A New Star

Roy Orbison

The evening sun is falling that old blue moon is calling
My guardian angel in the sky came through
To help all my dreams come true there's a new star.
There's a new star coming tonight, there's a new love burning So bright for a new star of love is born between the earth and sky for you and I.

There's a new star
The moon was dull, the sky was cold and gray
There were no stars to light my lonely way
And then I traced the lovelight in your eyes
To a new star twinkling in the sky burning bright, day and night
Now I'm alright, now we're together, lovers forever
A new star, a new star to light our way
There's a new star burning for us, there's a new world turning for us
There's a new star sparkling in the sky.

There's a new star shining somewhere and we know the reason why

There's a new star way up there for a true love
A new star for our love will never die.
