

Change The World

Royal Bliss

Hold my head up
A thousand times I've tried
Maybe I could make it out
Make it out alive
I want some evolution
I need a chance to change
I cant feel, I'm selling out
The only life I claim

But if I could change the world tonight,
I would leave it alone.
Cause I can make up my mind
and see the faults my own.

No more denial
In the words I breath
If it helps you sleep at night, put the blame on me
Now would you not speak
you wont talk to me
I tried not to hurt you,
So try hard to see
You know I could not leave

But if I could change the world tonight
I would leave it alone.
Cause I can make up my mind
and see the faults my own.

If you could change the world tonight, would you leave it alone?
Can you make up you mind and see the faults your own?

ohhh ya
You said its the same road
o please
It's never the same road
So I'm here once again running in circles and trying my best just to figure it out
I'm never the same, I know its concerning,
I'm doing my best just to figure it out

If I could change the world tonight
I would leave it alone.
Cause I can make up my mind
and see the faults my own.

But if you could change the world tonight, would you leave it alone?
Or can you make up you mind and see the faults your own?
