

Follow Me

Royal Hunt

If pictures could talk there'd be too many voices
If sorrow could scream I'd be deaf in a day
I beg my memories to slowly fade away
Too many voices

If pain could've been seen there'd be too many faces
Wherever I'd go, I'd rather be blind
And in the darkest night I'd lose my guiding light
But you I'll find even if I'm blind

Follow me
But I don't know where I'm going
Follow me
Down the road to something new
Follow me
There's no other way of knowing
What your heart is telling you

I'm planting my hopes and I harvest illusions
Year after year I understood by a few
Sometimes it seems like I'm getting through to you
But it's just an illusion

Follow me
But I don't know where I'm going, baby
Follow me
Down the road to something new
Follow me
There's no other way of knowing
What your heart is telling you

(I'm so afraid of losing you)
I'm so afraid of losing you
(But there's nothing I can do)
Nothing I can do
But my heart is calling you
Follow me
Follow me

Follow me
But I don't know where I'm going, baby
Follow me
Down the road to something new
Follow me
There's no other way of knowing
What your heart is telling you

Follow me
But I don't know where I'm going, baby
Follow me
Down the road to something new
Follow me
There's no other way of knowing
What your heart is telling you
