

Lies

Royal Hunt

Feels like I'm covered in lies so turn off the light, I'm closing my eyes
Flying back - ages ago
Curtain is down and I'm ready to go Back to the day when I looked into your eyes Straight to your heart - when I knew you've been telling me
lies
Even the day when we met I'll always recall with the deepest regret Tell me what keeps you awake:
Talk of the angel or soul of the snake?

How can you live in your shadow from within Hiding away from the light in the river of sin?
Lies, neverending lies,
I see it in your eyes
Did you stop believing?

Lies always cold as ice, even heaven cries for you, but not forgiving
Lies - the way to paradise you're gonna pay the price on the field of growing lies Neverending lies need a sacrifice - you're the one who's going down

Dealing with you on my own Loosing my faith so I have to be strong crossing the sea of mistrust
While looking for gold which you covered with dust
