

Love Is Here

Royal Tailor

Henry, you've been waiting and now this day has arrived
Why did it take the rock bottom to make you realize
What you've been missing is something that's very valuable?
A timeless gift that will ease your mind and rapture your soul

Look with your heart, not your eyes, you'll see the miracle
That hope is here and it's making itself available
This is your chance
If you miss it then you may miss it all, it's critical

Love is here
(No matter where you are)
Love is here
(You can't escape your heart)

Love is here
(It's more than we deserve)
Love is here
(You keep hearing these words)
Love is here, love is here, love is here

Faith is waiting and hoping that in time you'll arrive
And though you're walking and breathing
Henry, you're not alive
You know that this way is not the way you were meant to live

Why do you hold yourself back
When you have so much to give?
And though you run away
Mercy can see your every move
It follows you

And though you run away
Mercy can see your every move
It follows you

Love is here, love is here, love is here
No, you don't have to look no more
No, you don't have to look no more
Love like you never felt before
Love like you never felt before

Love is here
He'll never leave, leave you alone
He's all you need, His love will be here
