

Say somebody to your broken heart
Follow me onto a peaceful plane
By the way, your friends will be beside you
I never thought our life would be
An easy way to go
What's beyond the words we have to say
But close to you, I'm always there beside you

Why is it now, somewhere, somehow
Try to reach my heart
You will always be the light leading my way

Crazy lane, at least the end is near Learn to fly, to where you once have been
Come with me and the world is in our hands
Don't give up 'cause love will find it's way

Drifting through my open mind
'cross the universe, my love
Will ease your pain
By the way, your friends will be beside you

Fell your way, wherever life will carry you
Flying high, my arms are open wide
