

Sunday Morning

RPWL

Sunday morning, cloudless sky. Not so long ago we talked
About what was going wrong, before it had begun.
As sure as it had started. Much too fast to understand.
Not what we thought. A new love had to be.

So hard to find a way that leads into belief.
But now you lay here by my side

Dream on you'll be safe inside my arms.
Dream on I'll be here to keep you warm.
Sleep well it's much too early to get up.

I just woke up to see if you're still there.
Sleep on it's five o'clock.

I'm feeling so much better now. A look into eyes
And I can feel what's on your mind 'cause your Heart is open wide.

Funny how my life has changed. Not that I'm in paradise
