

The Shadow

RPWL

I walk into the night
Glad you teach me where to go
Even out in the moonlight
I walk at your heels without a goal

I've been to every place on earth every place that you have been before I'm always on my way
but I just follow,
I got no home

Give me a light in the dark An anchor for my restless will Give me the faith I need
Give me a reason for which I can live

Don't be afraid,
I'm a soul like you Driven to a place where I don't belong
But there'll come a time when I step into the light

I'm not your Dorian Gray,
I'm not your Mr. Hyde
I just lost direction and lost my goal
There is no destiny
when your wishes start to die

I have no destiny
You can see me as a simple change
As a lovely day will turn to night
I know too much to know of what I'm aware I love your world so much your world of sun and sacred light there's no other way for me
No other way to be on this side
