

The Way It Is

RPWL

So you think I need a friend
That's not the way it is
You never really understand
Still sitting by your side
Watching every move
There never really was a chance
Standing here alone
You're not here
My eyes are open wide
'Cause you must be there
Don't lose the love you feel in your heart
But that's just the way it is
With every move you make you're closer to the end
That's just the way it has to go....
Your message came from far
A crimson moon it lights the sky
The nightland creatures see your fall
No one here to lead my way
And she still calls out with her mind