

Wait Five Years

RPWL

You have to live
You have to give
Each other your love
There you stand talking to me
Time stands still,
The sun is shining through
Your golden hair
I believe that you and me
We catch the wind
The world is in our hands

You have to live
You have to give
Each other your love

Now, when no one will care
When no one will hear about your sorrows,
That all went so wrong
When your life
Will never be so easy
Like it was before

You have to live
You have to give
