

It's all because of you
You shut the door like many times before Drowning in your past
I'm searching for release
Where is the hero riding with the wind
Moving too fast
The silence is too loud to understand the Words we say
Look at me now
Reaching out to you
'cause all the way your are all the way you feel
all the way you live
is how it ought to be

never let it bring you down
I cannot face the world without you How I wish you were around There's still a place for us to fly to

You ? Never fit into this life we live I'd catch you if you fall
You ? You should have seen before

Talk to me now There's no single word I wouldn't try to understand
I worship the ground
That you will walk with me
'cause all the way you are
all the way you live
is how it ought to be

I thought I never did nobody wrong Where do you go? What do you do?
There must be a chance to live our dream
