Reach Out

You lay down There's a tear in your eye You don't wanna talk about How you feel tonight No, I can't ease your mind Or say it's gonna be fine Just that I've been there, baby And I know what it's like

And you're not going back there this time 'Cause you've got God's help and mine

Why don't you reach out And touch me in the darkness I'll bring you back I'm gonna reach out And touch you in the darkness I'll bring you back home

I know you've got a worried mind It can take you down It can take you out Do you still recognize The love that's in my eyes? You see, I've been there, baby And I know what it's like

And you're not going back there this time 'Cause you've got God's help and mine

Why don't you reach out And touch me in the darkness I'll bring you back I'm gonna reach out And touch you in the darkness I'll bring you back home

Oh, no one could ever know The places that you go When you're alone

Oh, no one could ever know The places that you go When you're alone But you're not alone

Why don't you reach out And touch me in the darkness I'll bring you back I'm gonna reach out And touch you in the darkness I'll bring you back home

Reach out And touch me in the darkness I'll bring you back I'm gonna reach out

Rumer

And touch you in the darkness I'll bring you back home
