

Fall into the Light

Run Kid Run

Yeah my life is yours
I've been back and forth
Running from this war
But you redeemer sing over me
New life is the melody
He's ready for you
Ready for me?
To stop and breathe
Abandon all the things that fail to leave

Let go let yourself fall into the light
Need to learn to let go
Let the old die

Yeah to you my life belongs
A fleeting vapor holding on
Until the race is won
So strange and beautiful to me
Heads turn to think that they were possibly meant to be
Love connects our brokenness shows
A pair needs one to lead and one to follow

Let go let yourself fall into the light
Need to learn to let go
Let the old die

So I'll run
Heading towards the one
And I'm getting closer
