

Sure Shot

Run Kid Run

Rise up to love, find your voice in the crowd
Sing your song aloud to those who just oppose the sound
We've got such a long way to go
Learning to trust while losing full control
Come fashion me for all to see You in me

This is a sure shot, why can't we just stop
And lose our gravity, rise up to reality
This is a sure shot, why can't we just stop
Echoing the world

I hear You, so soft, and subtle voice calling my name
Yet whispering Your words to me, a sure shot guarantee
So wake me up I've had enough
I've shut You out, closed my mouth too long to bleed sincerity
I'm not into deep now I'm awake
In You I found escape

This is a sure shot, why can't we just stop
And lose our gravity, rise up to reality
This is a sure shot, why can't we just stop
Echoing the world

It's time to face the world, face the world
Come together boys and girls, boys and girls
Voices lifted to the One rising up
We're going in with heads held high
Our eyes lifted to the sky, to the sky
Singing praises to the One worthy of
We are the voices of today
A generation that seeks Your way
We are the voices of today
We seek Your face, echoing Your name today
