Lions of the Sea

Running Wild

Strong and proud, the cruise Black banner at the top The spoon drift hits the bow They round the reefs and rocks The voice of freedom whispers In the rushing wind They roam the raging sea On their gliding wings They fight the black to save the truth They fight the scorning lie Oppression's wall, they will destroy They'll fight it till they die The lions of the sea They ride the wind eternally They fight to be free Roaming the seven seas of fate They save their souls from black From its evil void They are facing the challenge Its coldness to destroy They deny the temporal power They deny their evil lies They are strain at the leash Until the evil dies They fight the black to save the truth They fight the scorning lie Oppression's wall, they will destroy They'll fight it till they die The lions of the sea They ride the wind eternally They fight to be free Roaming the seven seas of fate They brave the sea eternally They tame the raging waves Freedom is their destiny The sea will be their grave Strong and proud, the cruise Black banner at the top The spoon drift hits the bow They round the reefs and rocks The voice of freedom whispers In the rushing wind They roam the raging sea On their gliding wings They fight the black to save the truth They fight the scorning lie Oppression's wall, they will destroy They'll fight it till they die The lions of the sea They ride the wind eternally They fight to be free Roaming the seven seas of Lions of the sea They ride the wind eternally They fight to be free Roaming the seven seas of fate Jištěno z www.txp.cz
