

This Is Not a Love Song

Runrig

I could tell you about the moon
That's rolling 'cross the sky
I could show you all the stars
But it's much too late at night
I'm driving home on the silver run
The last to move on through
And this is not a love song
No matter what I do
Words are few but the heart is true
Still the world keeps turning round
For me and you
If I could only make you see
One reason to believe
I would open up my heart
It's so easy to deceive
Footsteps fall through open doors
Across a darkened room
And this is not a love song
This is no moon in June
Words are few but the heart is true
Still the world keeps turning round
For me and you
You know for you I'd give my life
In you I will be strong
We went off looking for the light
But it was right here all along
Now we wait her passing nighttimes
Until every morning comes
And this is not a love song
This is no easy tune
Words are few but the heart is true
Still the world keeps turning round
For me and you
