I've always cared too much
For all my careless problems
Driving right up 65
I wanna leave it there to die
By the roadside
I finally feel alive

Whoa, whoa the time is here and now Whoa, whoa the clouds are breaking Whoa, this could be the end The end of me

The road to rest is far

And I've seen my share of restless nights

And I dare myself to lose control

As if I even had a hold

Of my own life

Could I finally feel alive

Whoa, whoa the time is here and now Whoa, whoa the clouds are breaking Whoa, this could be the end The end of me

Waiting on my world to fall apart I gotta let it burn!

Whoa, whoa the time is here and now Whoa, whoa the clouds they're breaking Whoa, this could be the end Whoa, this could be the end Whoa, this could be the end The end of me
