

There was one and there were two,
and then I probably lost the count.
But I cant even see their faces
cant remember how they sound,
And the sweetest of their smell was always something kind off dark.
That's the good love coming for you,
it will give you good advice,

He shooked me like nobody, fooled me like nobody,
nobody, nobody, nobody ever does.
He shooked me like nobody, fooled me like noobody,
nobody, nobody, nobody ever does.

And all the boys and all the girls are doing fine.
Cause they have trust and
don't need to pray for all their lives
But older people seem to worry they feel sorry for a time,
If only I could find the way I could be sleeping by your side,
by your side, oh your side is home to me.

He shooked me like nobody, fooled me like nobody,
nobody, nobody, nobody ever does.
He shooked me like nobody, fooled me like noobody,
nobody, nobody, nobody ever does.

Oh you shooked me, you still fool me everyday,
everyday, every.... day.
There was one and there were two;
and then I probably lost the count.
