

The Memory Is Cruel

Russian Red

She's not coming home tonight she says that she's left forever.
And you're staying in the house where she's going to live forever.

and the memory is cruel it reminds there's no one new time is nothing but a lie if she's not coming home tonight.
And your sleep will never be as good as it used to be
when the one you love is gone,
when the one you love is gone.

Dadarada...

While you're waiting for the sun the space around you is very quiet.
So you break in, close your eyes you can feel her warmth inviting you to dance...

... she's cruel, she reminds there's no one new time is nothing but a lie if she's not coming home tonight
And your sleep will never be as good as it used to be
when the one you love is gone,
when the one you love is gone.
