

Anyone But You

RX Bandits

i know i was wrong so please just take this offering, its all of me black spins circles around my conscience this stale responsibility is killing me hey, i never wanted to hurt anyone but you did what did you say its days like these i think i'll never go back out there its easier to be alone like this impossible, inflatable too so why don't you contribute to the effortless falling then i'm down about it's killing me and if you stay, then i'm still lost in some ways this world has more to say to you come out of the rain and if it won't stop then i'm going home consider me forgot
