What If

What if I told you That you're a lovely gal And I'd adore you If you'd just show me how- right now What if I told you Things that I have inside Shoulder to cry on Someone that I confide- right now

I can't see The life that's left in front of me So drop me off I can't do The things that I was meant to Just drop me in

What if I told you That you're a stupid whore And I want nothing Your life is such a bore to me What if I told you I speak with honesty You said yourself, girl Best things in life are free Right now, right away

I can't see The life that's left in front of me So drop me off I can't do The things that I was meant to Just drop me in

Never better, never worse Never better, never worse Never better, never worse Never better, never worse RX Bandits
