

The Greatest

S Club 7

How about a cup of coffee
Me and you, we can meet at the café
Parley, while sipping cappuccinos
If that ain't you, we can go hit a movie
Here I am all jittery and nervous
You got me feelin' that I'm really not good at this
In your mind I know your thinkin' what I'm up to
When all I wanna do is try to get to know you

I could be the one, you know the one you don't know you're lookin' for
We could be the spark, to start a fire that the World's been waiting for

The greatest love affair started with hello
The greatest love song started with a note
And the 'Mona Lisa' started with a stroke
Maybe me and you could be one of those
And the greatest idea started with a thought
If I think hard enough I could win your heart
Cos the greatest love story that was ever told
Could be me and you, you just never know

I've been doing all the talking
What's up with you, can you tell me what your thinking
Am I off base
Slow down, stop walking, take a breath.

Do you come here often?
You say you do and tomorrow is the weekend
Do you Bowl, are you up for Roller Blading
Take my number, hit me on the cell phone
Maybe later we can finish converstating

Yeah

I could be the one, you know the one you don't know you're lookin' for
We could be the spark, to start a fire that the World's been waiting for

The greatest love affair started with hello
The greatest love song started with a note
And the 'Mona Lisa' started with a stroke
Maybe me and you could be one of those
And the greatest idea started with a thought
If I think hard enough I could win your heart
Cos the greatest love story that was ever told
Could be me and you, you just never know

Stranger things have happened
And I don't even know your name
But I'm feeling this connection
Tell me do you feel the same
It could be bigger than both of us
But first it has to start
One day people gonna look back at us as a work of art

I could be the one to start a fire that the World's been waiting for

The greatest love affair started with hello

The greatest love song started with a note
And the 'Mona Lisa' started with a stroke
Maybe me and you could be one of those
And the greatest idea started with a thought
If I think hard enough I could win your heart
Cos the greatest love story that was ever told
Could be me and you, you just never know

The greatest love affair started with hello
The greatest love song started with a note
And the 'Mona Lisa' started with a stroke
Maybe me and you could be one of those
And the greatest idea started with a thought
If I think hard enough I could win your heart
Cos the greatest love story that was ever told
Could be me and you, you just never know
