

Cliffs Of Gallipoli

Sabatón

Hear them whisper voices from the other side hear them calling from friends and foes resting side by side

They will never leave our hearts or fade away live forever
they were far too young to die such a waste

how many wasted lives how many dreams did fade away broken promises they won't be coming home

Oh mothers wipe your tears
your sons will rest a million years found their peace at last
as foe turned to friend
and forgive

R: And they knew they'd die
Gallipoli
Left the letters in the sand
Such waste of life
Gallipoli
Dreams of freedom turned to dust

Hell is waiting where the ocean meets the sand Cliffs of burden where the soldiers crushed into a certain death

At the shoreline Blood of heroes stains the land light a candle
For each of them who fought and died in vain

There is no enemy
There is no victory
Only boys who lost their lives in the sand Young men were sacrificed a Their names are carved in stone in candle light and forever we will ? remember your burden

R: And they knew they'd die...

R: And they knew they would die...
