

The Hammer Has Fallen

Sabaton

Here i am standing, darkness all around
Thinking of past, taking my last breath, the air is cold as ice

No one close to hear my voice
Did not leave me with a choice
Heaven will you wait for me

Will i find a way, will i find a place
Will you let me go in peace
Will i find a way to the other side

Sad are memories from the life i lived
Cannot go on, cannot go further
It has to end right here
For the things that i have done
All the girls i lost and won
Let me rest in peace at last

Will i find a way, will i find a place
Will you let me go in peace
Leave behind those dark days
Now i ask again, will you hear my cries
Then you realise why oh why
I must find a way to the other side

Hear them whisper calling out my name
The sentence is set, the hammer has fallen
I have paid the price
Sad to realise too late, death was meant to be my fate
All this pain will follow me

Will i find a way, will i find a place
Will you let me go in peace
Leave behind those dark days
Now i ask again, will you hear my cries
Then you realise why oh why
I must find a way to the other side
