

Love...Hate

Sacred Reich

In a world so big and cold you seem so all alone
Then someone enters your life and makes it all seem right Sometimes things do change Love turns to bitter rage and you say "Never again" but emotions always mend

It's the root of all disharmony
but it's the need to feel complete
It's a physical attraction
a chemical reaction
a walking contradiction
a push, pull affliction
It's a love...hate relationship

You can see it in our band we're all so different Every solution we come to starts with an argument
But through adversity the music's in our heart We'll stay together you can't tear us apart

It's the root of all disharmony
but it's the need to feel complete
It's a physical attraction
a chemical reaction
a push, pull affliction
It's a love...hate relationship

Love...hate is it one in the same
I can't differentiate between love and hate
Love...hate is it one in the same
I can't differentiate between love and hate
I hate to love, I love to hate you love and hate is it one in the same love...hate

We always take for granted the one's that we love
We think they'll always be there and we treat them as such But if we really make an effort to Show them that we care
Our love will shine through and the hate will disappear

It's the root of all disharmony
but it's the need to feel complete
It's a physical attraction
a chemical reaction
a push, pull affliction
It's a love...hate relationship
