Lay Me To My Grave

Sacred Steel

There is no sadness There is no pain There os no sorrow Nothing's the same Where I shall go now There is no grief No p; ague and no mourning Ache or disease Meet me in heaven or meet me in hell Meet me in your dreams Wherever I'll dwell I am judge and jury No mercy I have For the crime of existence I sentence myself to death All lost or free The end I see All doomed or saved I'll do it Lay me to my grave I know there are good things like friendship in life When killed by betrayal When truth turns to lie There is nothing but hate left in a heart without love In a soul without light In a man without god I know there is laughterin the days of the sun But my skies are grey now All laughter is gone When there is no comfort Nothing left to live for It is better to set sails Head onward for death'shore
