

Sword of the King

Sacred Steel

With the dying breath of the blind witch came the prophecy from the land of myth and dreams into reality

From the old kingdom of magic the griffin descends to bring the sword of the elder to the ruler of man

Oh hear the valkyries sing your life or death they bring your future held within to bring forth the sword of the king

The heir to the throne is the child of the damned he must be stopped and fall black is his mind black is his soul he has come to bind us all he is the fiend of the pureness of light the ancient tyrant son the heir to the throne must be killed and denied defeat the chosen one

Die by my sword you'll die by my hand I will be lord and the ruler of man

Give light to the blind the end of the tyranny your soul and mind will never be free warriors unite into battle for destiny metal is life into war for the king

Take their children take their wives take their cities take their lives leave them broken hear my spell life on earth shall be your hell
