

Are You Ready

Sacred Warrior

You've been sent an invitation, the writing's on the wall
You know it's gonna be a party, the biggest of them all

We're here to rock for you and make the message known
And if you've got the guts, we'll show you the way home

Are you ready ? You've been summoned to this moment
A heavenly decree, it's not by chance or fate that

You are here to see, you're looking for an answer
To your life's regrets, the answer's clear to see

Are you ready to be set free ?
He died for you and me, take his hand and you will see
That your past and all your cares will fade away

You thought there'd be no happy endings but now you know the truth
There's nothing left but pride to stop you

The love of god's come through, tonight's the night for your salvation
You know what you must do, just give your life to christ
And see his power to renew - Are you ready ?
